

At Cornerstone, we believe that every church project is Holy - because it is set aside as sacred by prayer, vision, and obedience.

That's why we exist: to serve churches with the same care, clarity, and conviction they bring to their ministry.

We provide curated wisdom, protect hard-earned resources, and create ministerial and financial margin that congregations need to build with confidence.

The work is more than construction. It's stewardship.

CEO / Founder - Andrew Causey

Andrew leads Cornerstone Owner Representatives (CORe) with a clear vision: to bring clarity, margin, and trust to the construction process. As a seasoned project leader and strategic advisor, Andrew is known for his ability to adapt in real time, cut through complexity, and guide diverse teams toward successful outcomes.

He is a firm believer that the best solutions are born from collaboration — not control — and that strong leadership is rooted in listening well, planning wisely, and building trust from day one. Whether serving churches, civic institutions, or commercial developers, Andrew leads with conviction, creativity, and a deep commitment to stewarding every project through its God-given purpose.
